

SUKTA XVI. (XL.)

JRiski, deity, and metre as before.

1. ^he pure all-seeing (Somci) lias
overcome all Vai
enemies; (the worshippers) grace the sage (Somci)
•with, their praises.
2. ²The tawny-hued showerev (of benefits)
when effused ascends to his place ; he goes to ISDBA : he dwells in the fixed abode (of heaven).
3. ³0 IxDUj 0 SOMA, quickly pour upon us
from all quarters vast and infinite riches.
i. 0 purified SOMA, 0 IXBTJ, bring all sorts of wealth, bestow unlimited food.
4. 0 SOMA, being purified, bring us thy wor-
shippers wealth with male offspring,
recompense
the praises of him who glorifies thee.
5. INDU, SO^TA, being purified, bring us wealth
from both worlds; INDXJ, showerer (of benefits),
(bring us) glorious (wealth).

SUETA XYIT. (XII.)

The Risjii is MEDHYATITHI, son of Eli^rw^.; tnc deity
and metre
as Deiore.

1. ⁴ (Praise the &0;;^ -juices) which
descend likev^

¹ Sana Veda, I. 6. 1. 1. 2, and II. 3. 1. 1^ . 1.

² Sama Teda, II. 3. 1. 12. 2, wiith sufam for whit, ami
*sl:ltt<
for sidaiL

³ Sama Veda, H. 3. 1. 12. 3.

⁴ The whole of this hymn occurs with variations iii
Sama Ye Ju.
II. 3. I. 3. 1-6.